cocktails

bellini $16

a french lean on Guiseppi Ciprianis invention at Harry's Bar in Venice - Grandin Sparkling Brut topped up with pure peach liqueur - this is continental glamour in a glass

brandy alexander $15

perhaps the most famous in an extended family of cocktails is this decadent concoction of dark creme de cacao, french brandy, nutmeg and double cream

cosmopolitan $18

televisions "Sex in the City" made this classic cocktail famous again. vodka over cranberry and lime juice with triple sec and a hint of orange

james bond $16

sweet sixteen and never been kissed - not likely with this heady mix of sugar cubes soaked in bitters on a shot of absolut vodka - topped with sparkling white wine - easy does it!

kir royale $15

a sassy way to lace up your favourite french champagne is with a shot of cassis poured into the base of the champagne flute then topped up with the "lubblely bubblely"

godfather $18

whispered to be a favourite of the eponymous character Don Corleone played by Marlon Brando - scotch whiskey and amaretto poured over ice into a highball glass - watch as night follows day

margarita $18

invented and attributed to Francisco Morales in Mexico in 1942, this cocktail made by vigorously shaking tequila, lime juice and triple sec over ice until well frosted then sipped from a salt rimmed glass is arguably the most civilised way to drink tequila

dry martini $16

invented by Martini de Anna de Toggia this is considered by many to be the ultimate cocktail of dry gin and dry vermouth stirred gently over broken ice then topped with a cocktail olive

monte carlo $ 17

a definite favourite of the motor racing world this cocktail is as daringly refreshing as a win on the circuit - gin, lemon juice and creme de menthe on ice - topped with sparkling white wine and mint
